Dear parent/guardian,

Year 4 have been very lucky to be invited to take part in some exciting research which has ethics approval from Lancaster University. Please see below for more information.

The research explores how children in Years 3–6 understand AI, robot decision-making, and robot mistakes through one-to-one interaction with social robots and interactive storytelling activities. The sessions are designed to be fun, engaging, and educational while encouraging children to think critically about AI technologies and what robots can and cannot do. We hope the project can give children an exciting opportunity to interact with real-world AI technology while supporting discussions around AI literacy and critical thinking from an early age.

The study will be conducted on as many of our Year 4 pupils as possible in the short time we have left before the holidays. Therefore, it is on a first come, first serve basis.

For your child to be involved you need to follow the links and complete the questionnaires below. The study will begin on Monday.
